by ERICKA SANTOS

Pamper to perfection this new year with stress relieving massages, fabulous facials and extraordinary body treatments. With a variety of unique services and traditional treatments out there, let us lead the way down the road to relaxation and rejuvenating retreats. Whatever the indulgence, 944 explored some of the region's best day spas, salons and beauty boutiques.

THE PEARL LAGUNA

Offering guests a private escape within the scenic backdrop of Laguna Canyon, The Pearl Laguna has seamlessly married "the wisdom of yoga with the healing power of nature." Founded by husband and wife Geo and Katresha Moskios, this boutique spa uses weekend and weeklong programs to revitalize client's health and enhance their well-being. As two of yoga's most highly regarded practitioners, the couple has centered their retreats on a system they call Life's Natural Design. By incorporating hiking, massages, yoga, meditation and a fresh diet of only fruits and vegetables, The Pearl Laguna provides guests with a purifying sense of balance. With 12 bedrooms each designed with private baths, a selection of lavish massage rooms, sauna, pool and a tranquil outdoor deck, there is plenty of relaxation to be had at The Pearl Laguna.

THE SUGAR SHACK

If in search of a sweeter alternative to the woes of traditional waxing, there is a less painful experience out there. At the Sugar Shack Salon, the ancient Middle Eastern technique of sugaring has been giving guests a satisfying option. Owner Julia Davis turned to the age-old technique when her clientele began having issues with traditional waxing. Sugaring perks include the application of perfectly lukewarm sugaring paste, a much shorter waiting period for hair growth between treatments and less pain due to no micro layers of skin being lifted during the sugaring process, as opposed to with hot wax. "I want my clients to feel at ease when they come in. I offer them a professional yet warm and friendly experience. As far as their service is concerned, my motto is [to be] 'practically perfect in every way,'" says Davis.
